PERFORMING ARTS

This year in performing arts, thirty students and eight faculty had the opportunity to perform for audiences across the Springfield, Massachusetts area. The purpose was to help both the parents and the students there gain an understanding of the Hyde philosophy and spirit. The spring Parent's Weekend show was a great success. We also performed this show for local schools.

Community Action: Kids Reaching Kids

The Kids Reaching Kids program allows students to give something of themselves to others. The little brothers and sisters look forward each week to seeing their friend. They learn from each other about themselves. Hyde students learn about being a role model and the importance of belonging to a community.

HYDE SPORTS

Athletics at Hyde School are co-curricular, meaning everyone participates each season. The goal of Hyde Athletics is not necessarily to win games and championships, but rather to present a physical, emotional, and spiritual challenge for each athlete. Each athlete hopefully will experience him or herself surpassing limits they have previously set for themselves. As with all Hyde activities, the emphasis is placed on the athlete's attitude and effort, which will help draw out their innate character, rather than focusing on one's ability. The athletic program is successful when an athlete, regardless of the outcome of the contest, has truly pushed him or herself and has discovered something about their character and potential in the process.

A Season of Excellence

The 1990 Hyde Varsity Football team had an excellent season. A large group of Seniors, with Willy Kern and Bruce Truluck as captains, led the team. A well experienced line protected first year quarterback, John Hardy, and third year tailback, Joe Keenan. Highlights of the season can be found in wins over the powerful Titlon and Hebron schools. In the last game against Hebron, Hyde drove forty-five yards in the waining eight minutes of the game to conquer Hebron 6-0. Next year's winning tradition and attitude

"We owe to women the charm
and the beauty of life;
for the purity of thought and heart,
for patient courage,
for recklessly unselfish devotion,
for the love that rests, strengthens, and inspires,

These are the best things in life;
in them men cannot compete with women."

"When Jonathan Seagull joined the flock on the beach, it was full night. He was dizzy and terribly tired. Yet in delight he flew a loop to landing, with a snap roll just before touchdown. When they hear of it, he thought, of the breakthrough they'll be wild with joy. How much more there is now to living! Instead of our drab slogging forth and back to the fishing boats, there's a reason to life. We can lift ourselves out of ignorance, we can find ourselves as creatures of excellence and intelligence and skill. We can be free. We can learn to fly!"

Ending only with the setting sun?
